Title: Are you struggling with an Articulation Disorder?

Location

Additional information

Additional Information:

This is a speech disorder involving difficulties in articulating specific types of sounds. Articulation disorders often involve substitution of one sound for another, slurring of speech, or indistinct speech.  This hampers you being able to communicate, get your message across and even inhibiting you from getting that sought after promotion.  I will be able to provide treatment that will eliminate the disorder.  I have had numerous success stories in the 11yrs of presenting this course.
